"Over the years, I've enjoyed sharing all kinds of stories with my kids. But when other parents asked me for advice on how they could get started-- I've been at a loss-- until now. Sean Buvala has created that first step. His method is simple, direct, and fun, and leads to stronger relationships between parents and children. What parent wouldn't want that?"

-Tim Ereneta, Pro Storyteller, (timereneta.com)

K. Sean Buvala is the father of four children. He's a full-time storyteller who has told and taught throughout the United States for 25 years. A recipient of the National Storytelling Network's Oracle Award, Sean speaks to audiences of all types, helping them to understand and apply the power of storytelling in every aspect of their lives.
